Your Study Options

Communication

With more than 30 years of teaching expertise behind us, we've got the wisdom of experience, led by the best in the field. We're also young, creative and dynamic, shaped by the agile, authentic and entrepreneurial spirit that have come to define UTS.

Digital Disruption

Digital disruption, the rise of new media – these are the forces shaping the communication landscape today. So, we've embraced them. Made them part of what we do, of how we teach, of what we research. As a student in our School, they'll become part of your course too.

Creative Thinking

Develop creative and critical-thinking skills through practical, technology-driven learning.

Practical Learning

We take a hands-on approach to communication education – there's no point learning the theory if you don't understand how to apply it. Real-world assessments, professional placements and regular interaction with industry will teach you to translate theory to practice, with stunning results.

Advanced Journalism

Explore traditional tenets of journalism with a contemporary approach. Using new digital technologies, you'll foster agility and innovation, and learn hands-on reporting, editing, production and design skills to understand the news media environment in a local, regional and global context.

Advanced Journalism offers an articulated program. The Graduate Diploma and Masters Degree share certain subjects, allowing recognition of prior learning for previously completed subjects.

Kate Bettles
Content Producer at News Corp

"I really enjoyed the practicality of the course, particularly data journalism and how that can be integrated into discovering interesting stories for investigation...also when I went to Jordan as part of the Foreign Correspondents Study Tour, I learnt a whole range of skills from the others there - filming on multiple pieces of equipment, producing talent and landing on your feet when things don't go to plan".

Why Strategic Communication at UTS?

Doing things right is important in all fields of work. But, as the eminent management consultant Peter Drucker said, it is even more important to do the right thing. This means understanding and developing strategy, not just tactics. In this course students learn how to plan and implement communication that effectively achieves the objectives of their organisation.

Integrated theory and practice

The UTS approach to learning combines practical knowledge and experience with theory and critical thinking that helps identify best practice and raises important questions about issues such as ethics and stakeholder and societal interests.

Transdisciplinary innovation

This advanced degree is a collaboration between the leading UTS School of Communication, the UTS School of International Studies; and UTS Business School, giving students access to the latest thinking in global management as well as communication.

Field visits and internships

Students have the opportunity to undertake internships in a commercial, government or non-profit communication department or an agency to gain practical knowledge and field visits to professional advertising, public relations and/or digital communication offices are arranged in some subjects.

Distinguished academics and industry leaders as lecturers

This course is delivered by a combination of senior academic researchers and leading industry professionals.

Executive Strategic Communication

If you are a communication professional with a minimum of three years relevant work experience in the communication industry and looking to progress into a leadership position in strategic corporate, government or organisational communication, this course is for you.

It has been structured to provide advanced knowledge of communication as well as allowing you to focus on either government or corporate and marketing communication. You will learn how to gain deep audience insights, think outside the square to address communication problems and opportunities, and evaluate your work.

Distinguished academics and industry leaders as lecturers

This course is delivered by a combination of senior academic researchers and leading industry professionals.

Andrew Cooper

Head of Communication, KBR Australia

“It’s important communicators understand the future challenges in the workplace so they can help their organisations and leaders navigate them. I believe having a postgraduate degree gives communication professionals the edge in the industry. Having both the technical ability which you learn while working, combined with theory which you learn in a postgraduate degree, gives you a much broader perspective on best practice. It also provides you with the tools you need to build brands and engage employees.”

Education

Think differently about how you contribute to the world and to education. We are a school which is practice-oriented, research-inspired, technology-linked, and creative, all within a global outlook.

Purpose-built Facilities

Second to none -that's how we describe our purpose-built facilities in the School of International Studies and Education. From customised science, music, dance and visual arts teaching environments to informal study areas and dedicated research hubs, all our spaces are designed to shape your education practice.

Beyond Boundaries

We believe that a global perspective is critical to education in Australia. You'll be studying with people from multilingual and multicultural backgrounds. It's not only a question of where you can take your education degree -where can your education degree take you?

Fostering Relationships

We are committed to fostering valuable relationships between you, your academics and the industry. Practicums are held within established school networks (over 200+ Secondary Schools in NSW) and professional bodies, to ensure you're prepared for future career opportunities. You'll also study in small, specialised cohorts with students across a spectrum of careers/industry including teachers, trainers and professionals, which offers you which offer you a different perspective when solving problems. Self-reflective journeys are also incorporated within learning to ensure practical day-to-day application.

Applied Linguistics and TESOL

Using contemporary models of language, learning and teaching, we aim to meet the needs of people both with and without teaching degrees. Providing an initial qualification for the untrained or a teaching specialisation for those with previous experience, you'll be taught in both theory and practice, while professional experience subjects enable you to test your skills in a real-world classroom. Once you graduate, your degree will be recognised around Australia and overseas.

Applied Linguistics and TESOL offers an articulated program. The Graduate Certificate, Graduate Diploma and Masters Degree share coursework units of study, allowing credit recognition for previously completed coursework. Each course functions as entry and exit points for students.

Ian Balcomb
Education and Training Consultant,
Former Director of Skills Reform, NSW
Department of Industry

"Having a Graduate Certificate in Applied Linguistics and TESOL has given me a globally recognised TESOL (Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages) qualification. It had four core subjects, all of which I enjoyed, that give a good grounding for teaching English to speakers of other languages. I also found the micro-teaching approach used in the TESOL Practicum subject a great way to work with others in a supportive environment, to develop a repertoire of good teaching and learning activities for use in the classroom."

Liling Ong

Founder of PIEX Education and Co-Founder of STEAM Education Australia

"I chose this course to increase my credibility and gain more knowledge in the Education industry. As a founder I need to do everything from teaching through to business development, so almost all the subjects I have taken so far – have all been useful in my professional life."

Education (Learning and Leadership)

The Master of Education (Learning and Leadership) is for educators, and learning and development professionals looking to enhance their current practice and are ready to take the next step in their careers.

The course offers a high level of customisation. You can tailor your learning and assessments to your own workplace practice and career development goals through our innovative and award winning Capability Wrap process.

MASTER of Education (Learning and Leadership) C04307

4 Fostering Learning Practice Subjects, 4 Leading Learning and Innovation subjects and 4 Investigating Learning and Innovation subjects (each 6cp)
1.5 years full-time or equivalent part-time

This Master of Education (Learning and Leadership) is designed around three key themes - Fostering Learning Practices, Leading Learning and Innovation, and Investigating Learning and Innovation, all crucial to contemporary professional practice. A practice-based learning approach is at the core of the course. Teaching is also research-based, allowing you to benefit from UTS's reputation as a research leader in professional and workplace learning. You'll also study in technology-enhanced spaces in a blended learning mode alongside peers from a range of professional backgrounds.

Capability Wrap

The Capability Wrap process is an award-winning course-wide design feature that enables you to tailor your learning and assessments in every subject. You have the opportunity to meet your professional career goals while you learn; and graduate with a Capability Statement you can use to secure your next role.

Careers

Leadership roles within schools, Learning and Development positions with schools, Learning and Development Team Leader or Manager, NGO Trainer, Nurse Trainer, Engineering Trainer, Professional Association Trainer, VET Provider, Higher Education, Corporate Sector, Health Services or Government.

Sample Subjects

- Learning in the Digital Age
- Designing Innovative Learning
- Professional Learning and Practice
- Navigating Policy in Changing Environments
- Leading Innovative Practices
- Evaluating Learning and Innovation

Credit Recognition

Students may be granted recognition of prior learning of 24 credit points (4 subjects) if they hold the following qualifications accredited by Australian teacher education regulatory authorities:

- a Bachelors Degree and a Postgraduate teaching qualification, including professional experience; or
- a four-year pre-service teacher education qualification including professional experience.

Admission Requirements

Applicants must have completed a UTS recognised Bachelors Degree, or an equivalent or higher qualification, or submitted other evidence of general and professional qualifications that demonstrates potential to pursue graduate studies.

For applicants with a Bachelors Degree, the degree must be in any ASCED Field of Education group (01 to 10).

All applicants must have a minimum of two years' related professional work experience in the following ANZSCO groups: 01 Managers, 02 Professional, 03 Technicians and Trades Workers, 04 Community and Personal Service Workers, 05 Clerical and Administrative Workers, and 06 Sales Workers.

Employment experience is assessed according to the response provided by applicants in the employment question on their application and submitted CV.

Why Education at UTS?

A threefold focus on learning, leading and innovating

Subjects are organised against the three themes of fostering contemporary and emerging learning practices; leading learning and innovation; and investigating learning and innovation.

Integrate learning with your work and practice

You will have the opportunity and encouragement to closely link learning to your workplace and professional contexts. Use of your real life experiences may help you achieve a better work-life-study balance.

Learn and network with professionals from a range of industries

Students from different work settings have a chance to connect and learn together around shared issues and challenges.

Learn from a team of active researchers

The MED(L&L) teaching team are research leaders in professional and workplace learning and education. You learn about cutting edge theory and research from them and their international network.

Flexible learning and innovative use of digital technologies

This course is delivered in blended mode which includes 3-4 face-to-face workshops (typically on weekends) for each subject, complemented by online learning.

Teaching (Secondary Education)

This teacher education preparation course provides you with a master's qualification to teach in Australian secondary schools. The course content is split into three areas; Core, Teaching Methods and Professional Experience, and Electives. The Professional Experience component includes both campus-based and field-based experiences where we help to place you within one of our strong partnerships from over 200 NSW High Schools, resulting in a highly practice-oriented degree.

MASTER of Teaching (Secondary Education)

C04255

8 Core Subjects, 6 Major Choice
Subjects and 3 Electives
2 years full-time or equivalent part-time

The Master of Teaching (Secondary Education) builds fundamental teaching methods and fosters confidence in executing pedagogy to ensure you can excel as a leader within the classroom.

Professional Recognition

This course has received professional accreditation by the NSW Education Standards Authority (NESA) as a recognised secondary school teaching qualification. To gain employment as a teacher in NSW schools, graduands must meet the requirements of the NESA, including language proficiency.

Gabrielle Zolezzi
7-12 English Teacher at Killara High School

"This is a diverse and engaging course that will see you discussing inclusive education practices with teachers from other Key Learning Areas in one subject, student development with primary teachers next, until you are honing in on the minute details of your subject specific syllabi in your method seminars. The ability to dabble in a bit of this and a bit of that whilst engaging with a diverse range of people from all parts of Sydney is what I think makes UTS and the MTeach course so unique."

Careers

Secondary School Teacher
(in your chosen specialisation).

Sample Subjects

- Designing Learning for a Digital Generation
- Understanding and Engaging Adolescent Learners
- Inclusive Education: Students with Learning Difficulties and Disabilities
- The School in the Context of Contemporary Society

Admission Requirements

Applicants must have completed a UTS recognised Bachelors Degree, or an equivalent or higher qualification, or submitted other evidence of general and professional qualifications that demonstrates potential to pursue graduate studies.

The degree should contain at least one major discipline study relevant to the first teaching area as described by the NSW curriculum and consistent with NESA Subject Content Knowledge Requirements. In the event the degree also contains a minor discipline study relevant to that area, students qualify to teach a second or additional subject. For a major discipline study this equates to six subjects, with no more than two subjects at first-year level and no fewer than two subjects at third-year level. A minor discipline study equates to four subjects, with no more than two subjects at the first-year level.

All Applicants

- A personal statement

Why Teaching at UTS?

Qualification for your new teaching career

From 2018, all NSW teachers have to be accredited by NESA. Graduates of the Master of Teaching in Secondary Education are eligible for NESA Provisional Accreditation to teach in NSW schools.

Specialisations

Choose from six major specialisations including English, Maths, Science, HSE (Business Studies/Economics) and Maths/Science.

Professional Experience practicums

You will spend at least 60 days full-time teaching in a NSW Secondary School for an intensive and closely-supported professional experience. Practicums run in the second and fourth sessions for the full 2 year program and in the second and third session for the accelerated 1.5 year program.

School partnerships

We have a great relationship with the 200+ schools that you can be placed in and you will receive support from a Supervising Teacher as well as UTS academic staff during your placement. After graduation, many of our student teachers go on to teach in one of the two schools from their professional experience placements, hence our school partnerships are of utmost importance to us.

Learn from a specialised team

You will be learning from teachers who are either currently teaching; on English and Math Teacher Associations because of their wealth of knowledge and experience; or working in practical research projects in NSW Schools.

Accelerated mode

If you completed both the required Undergraduate Degree and specialisation subjects, you can elect to complete the course in a 1.5 year accelerated program.

International Applicants

If you're an international student, head to uts.edu.au/international to find the course information, fees and application details relevant to you.

Fees

If you're studying a Postgraduate by Coursework Degree, you'll need to pay tuition fees. You can find out more about what your degree will cost at uts.edu.au/tuition-fee-calculator

For Postgraduate by Research Degree's, you will need to either pay a fee or, if you're eligible for the Research Training Program, the Australian Government will cover the cost for you. To find out more visit uts.edu.au/domestic-hd-fees

If you do have to pay a fee and you're a local student, you may be eligible for FEE-HELP, an Australian Government loan scheme. Using FEE-HELP means you don't have to pay for your tuition fees up front. More information can be found at uts.edu.au/government-help-schemes

You can choose to repay your FEE-HELP loan simply by notifying your employer who will then withhold your payments through the PAYG tax system. You can also make payments directly to the Australian Taxation Office (ATO).

Non-Award Study

Do you want to study a single subject without committing to a full degree? You can! It's called Non-Award Study and it's a great way to upgrade your skills or just learn more about something you enjoy. What's even more exciting is that any subjects you complete may be recognised in future study. To apply, visit uts.ac/non-award-study

English Language Proficiency

There are English language proficiency requirements for all courses. These requirements may apply to you, even if you are not an international student. Visit uts.edu.au/english-language-requirements to find out more.
