Transform your career
with a world-class law degree
Dean’s Welcome

UTS Law is a dynamic and innovative law school, which has achieved great success for the quality of its legal education and research. Our focus throughout has always been on quality, sustainability and a commitment to social justice.

The legal education we offer is shaped by our commitment to practice-oriented learning. This informs our curriculum, teaching styles, classroom interaction and assessment. It means that our graduates have a sound knowledge of the legal discipline and the skills and experience to ensure that they are work-ready.

Above all, we seek to provide a nurturing learning environment that will ensure students facing challenges are supported and all of our students are provided with the opportunity to fulfill their goals.

Welcome to the UTS Law community.

Acknowledgement of Country

UTS acknowledges the Gadigal People of the Eora Nation and the Boorooberongal People of the Dharug Nation upon whose ancestral lands our campuses stand. We would also like to pay respect to the Elders both past and present, acknowledging them as the traditional custodians of knowledge for these lands.
The world is changing

Choose a law degree that’s keeping pace.

AT THE FOREFRONT OF THE TECHNOLOGY REVOLUTION

Digital disruption is reshaping the legal sector – and at UTS Law, we’re ready for change. With technology-specific course content and extracurricular programs, research topics and hands-on experience in the classroom, and our acclaimed Future of the Legal Profession discussion series, you’ll be ready for what the future holds.

A MORE JUST WORLD FOR ALL

When we talk about social justice, it’s more than just lip service. UTS Law is home to acclaimed research centres – Anti-Slavery Australia, Australasian Legal Information Institute (AustLII) and the Centre for Media Transition – that use the law as a tool for social change. There’s a wealth of student-centred initiatives on offer too – join the Brennan Justice and Leadership Program, undertake applied human rights fieldwork overseas or participate in a global or local internship.

IT’S WHAT YOU KNOW – AND WHO

Access to industry expertise is a crucial part of the UTS Law experience. Study a degree that’s underpinned by industry input, build professional connections with our networking events and career seminars, take advantage of scholarships funded by our legal and professional partners, and benefit from our strong relationships with industry, the professions and the community.

REAL-WORLD EXPERIENCE, BEFORE YOU’RE IN THE REAL WORLD

Experiential learning is about applying what you’ve learned to real-world challenges – and there’s no shortage of real-world challenges here! Pursue internships and fieldwork placements, leadership programs (Brennan Justice and Leadership Program, BUILD), international study experiences (Global Professional Experience Project, Global Exchange and Study Abroad, Summer and Winter Schools), practical legal training, and mooting and mentoring opportunities.

STUDY WITH THE BEST

Not all law degrees are the same: what you learn, and who you learn it from, makes a big difference. Our teaching team is comprised of professional and academic leaders with expertise across all facets of legal practice and research. They’ll help you build your theoretical skills, practical capabilities, and professional confidence – essential tools for a legal career.

WORLD-CLASS CAMPUS, GLOBAL CITY

UTS Law sits at the heart of one of the world’s great cities. Based in the Haymarket Campus, it’s in close proximity to everything you need (the CBD, law firms, barristers’ chambers, the courts and other businesses; trains and buses; and great places to eat and drink), and it’s been designed with your needs in mind – think state-of-the-art study spaces, technology-enabled meeting rooms, a dedicated law librarian and simulated court facilities, to name a few.
Today, a successful legal career is about more than knowing how to apply the law: the next generation of law jobs will be shaped by the changing digital landscape.

As a university of technology, UTS is ahead of the game when it comes to preparing our students for next generation legal careers. We've introduced subjects that explore technology and the law in a range of different contexts – disruptive technologies, artificial intelligence, automation and new methods of legal interaction – and you can explore legal technology issues as part of your thesis research.

We're bringing new technologies into the classroom to give you hands-on experience with the tools that will influence your future practice. And many extracurricular activities, like mooting competitions, the Allen Neota UTS Law Tech Challenge for Social Justice and the UTS-King & Wood Mallesons #breakinglaw Hackathon, will bring you face-to-face with critical technology-driven issues that are impacting the legal sector today.

This means you'll graduate with a sense of the bigger picture – as well as top-notch legal knowledge, you'll understand the ways in which technology and the law are intertwined, and you'll be ready for the challenges and opportunities presented by emerging technologies. With these skills, you'll be ready for the realities of your chosen profession. You'll be a graduate of tomorrow – but you'll be ready today.

Digital disruption is transforming the legal industry – think artificial intelligence tools for research and discovery, online apps for dispute resolution, and expert systems that generate documents like wills and contracts.
Dominic Woolrych
CEO, LawPath
JD Graduate

Dominic believes having a dual skillset is vital in today’s commercial law environment. This has been crucial to his success at LawPath, an online legal service that connects lawyers with clients and provides technology powered legal services at a fraction of the time, cost and complexity of the traditional system.

As the legal industry continues to undergo a period of major transition, Dominic is adamant that the most successful law graduates will be those that are multi-skilled. An innovator at heart, he was named an Individual Winner in the 2015 Australian Legal Innovation Index for his commitment to thinking more deeply about how clients can get the best value out of legal document automation.

“In the next five to ten years the role of the lawyer will change. Technology will allow lawyers to more efficiently do their work – and this efficiency will benefit the client.”

WORK-READY
Knowing the law and how to apply it is a core aspect of a comprehensive law degree. At UTS, we’ll help you build these skills – and much more. Our courses are built on a range of graduate attributes designed to prepare you for the world of work. You’ll learn to be professional, curious and self-motivated, and you’ll build skills in critical evaluation, collaboration and communication – all before you’ve left UTS.

FLEXIBLE STUDY OPTIONS? WE MEAN IT
Study how you want, when you want. We offer full-time or part-time study, daytime or evening lectures for core subjects, online and block study for selected electives and intensive summer sessions to help you juggle study, work and life. Need more? Many of our lectures are recorded, so if you miss a class, you can catch up in your own time.

PRACTICAL LEGAL TRAINING – TAKE THE NEXT STEP
Finishing your degree is one thing, but you need to complete practical legal training (PLT) before you can practise law in NSW. And you’re in luck: UTS was the first university in Sydney to offer PLT, thanks to our Graduate Certificate in Professional Legal Practice. And, as a UTS student, you’ll be on familiar ground – the Grad Cert will feel like an extra component of your degree.

THERE’S MORE TO LIFE THAN FINAL EXAMS
At UTS Law, there are no 100% final exams. We repeat: there are no 100% final exams. In fact, we offer a wide range of assessment tasks, based on real-world law scenarios – so you’ll be preparing for professional success while you study.

COUNT YOUR PENNIES
No matter what they say, the best things in life aren’t actually free – but a discount sure helps. UTS Alumni receive a 10% saving on tuition fees for full-fee-paying courses.

Students from all around the globe

Student’s country of birth
Graduates of the future

A successful legal career is about more than understanding the law. At UTS, tomorrow’s graduates are equipped with a range of attributes that are embedded in every law subject at UTS. Their purpose? To prepare you for a global workforce where change is the only constant. You’ll be a critical thinker who can analyse information and question its source. You’ll be professional yet personable, ready to build strong professional connections, thrive in high pressure environments, and strike a balance between life and work.

Here’s how we’ll get you there:

1. LEGAL KNOWLEDGE
Know the law – inside and out. You’ll build a wealth of advanced and integrated legal knowledge, including an understanding of the Australian legal system, social justice, cultural and international contexts, legal ethics, and contemporary developments in law and legal practice.

2. ETHICS AND PROFESSIONAL RESPONSIBILITY
Honesty, integrity, accountability, public service and ethical standards are the core values of our degrees. As a graduate, you’ll understand ethical decision making and professional responsibility, be able to reflect on and respond to ethical challenges in practice, and learn to exercise sound professional judgement.

3. CRITICAL ANALYSIS AND EVALUATION
A well-rounded professional can think critically, strategically and creatively. You’ll gain the ability to identify and articulate complex legal issues, apply reasoning and research to generate appropriate theoretical and practical responses, and demonstrate sophisticated cognitive and creative skills in your approach to complex legal issues.

4. RESEARCH SKILLS
Well-developed cognitive and practical skills will enable you to identify, research, evaluate and synthesise relevant factual, legal and policy issues – important stuff for a legal career. You’ll also be able to demonstrate the intellectual and practical skills required to interpret theoretical propositions and legal methodologies, and justify your own conclusions and professional decisions.
5. COMMUNICATION AND COLLABORATION
The walk is good but the talk is crucial. You’ll gain effective and appropriate professional communication skills, including highly effective English language capabilities; an ability to inform, analyse, report and persuade using an appropriate medium and message; and an ability to respond appropriately in professional contexts.

6. SELF-MANAGEMENT
Self-starters can get themselves where they need to go. You’ll build a high level of autonomy, accountability and professionalism, as well as the ability to implement appropriate self-management and lifelong learning strategies. Gain confidence with self-directed work and learning, judgment and responsibility, self-assessment of skills, personal wellbeing and appropriate use of feedback, and build the capacity to adapt to and embrace change.

Our graduate attributes are the values that underpin our courses, our curriculum and our assessment – and they’re there to prepare you for life after your degree.
A reflection of our success

Flora Wong
Director Financial Crime Compliance (FCC) Governance
Standard Chartered Bank (SCB), Hong Kong
JD Graduate

My job mainly involves supporting the Country Head of FCC to ensure appropriate oversight of financial crime compliance in Hong Kong. What I find rewarding in this role is the ability to help shape the future of the banking industry in Hong Kong via the regulatory consultations and various industry-wide projects. Law school taught me the importance of structuring thoughts and arguments and the importance of being able to react quickly and think on one’s feet, an important skill to have in Hong Kong’s fast-paced finance industry.

The decision to study the Juris Doctor was primarily to advance my career. I was enjoying my work in Risk and Compliance within the financial services industry and working on solving problems on how to implement legal guidance into workable policies and procedures.

“UTS is a rare example of the success that flows from being forward thinking and relevant.”
SEAN MCCANN
JDMBA GRADUATE

Sean McCann
Consultant, Mergers and Acquisitions Corporate Tax Group
PwC Australia
JDMBA Graduate

My role involves assisting a range of large multinational organisations with acquisitions and other complex commercial and tax consulting projects. Every day I utilise the critical thinking developed through my studies to solve complex problems for our clients and achieve their strategic goals.

The most rewarding aspect of the JDMBA program at UTS was the opportunity to study closely with progressive legal and business minds. It helped me develop a greater understanding of the inner workings of the business world and the relevance of legislative and case law interpretation.

UTS is a rare example of the success that flows from being forward thinking and relevant. It is a great place to begin to develop a strong professional network and is something that you will continue to leverage off as your career progresses.
Blake Egelton
Associate, Clyde & Co
JD Graduate

My job involves running large multi-national court and international arbitration proceedings for a variety of domestic and international clients. The most rewarding aspect of my role is working as part of a team (with the partners, senior lawyers and junior staff) and with the client to achieve the outcome that they are hoping for. My work has been recognised as a Finalist in the 2017 Lawyers Weekly 30 Under 30 Award and as an Insurance Business ‘Young Gun’.

I thoroughly enjoyed studying at UTS. I found the lecturers were personable, approachable and more focused on the practical aspects of the profession. The JD cohort had an interesting mix of professionals from all different professional backgrounds which provided an excellent opportunity to network and I was lucky to leave UTS with a great network of colleagues.

Sophie Christodoulou
Insurance Solicitor, HWL Ebsworth
JD Graduate

I work within a team of solicitors that specialise in providing advice to corporate clients on asbestos exposure cases. This requires detailed medical investigations, as well as the review of employment records and research into asbestos products, including the history of their manufacture and supply. The nature of my work means that I frequently attend both the District Court and the Dust Diseases Tribunal in Sydney to represent clients.

Many universities offer law degrees but none will offer you the same experience as UTS. If you are looking to study in an environment where students help one another, where staff members are more than willing to offer you their time and support, and where the broader university community is nothing short of welcoming and kind, then you need look no further than UTS Law.

Avril Ford
Corporate Counsel, Legal Sustainability and Risk Team Canon Australia
JD Graduate

Primarily, my role involves transactional commercial law like sales and reseller contracts and trade promotion terms, advising on Australian competition and consumer law, and dispute handling.

I managed Canon’s B2B commercial contracts team for some years and two of our lawyers encouraged me to study law. I thought about Canon’s place in the IT sector and how law was another qualification that is transferable across industries. The breadth of topics studied in the JD opened my eyes to the possibilities of working in more areas of the law than I originally contemplated.

My advice for students undertaking the JD is to be kind to yourself especially if you are working full-time. Set realistic expectations and remember you do not have 100% to give to everything in your life; there’s only 100% to start with.
Which right for

JURIS DOCTOR (JD)
Get ready to become a practising lawyer (after completion of Practical Legal Training), or to advance your career in another field where legal qualifications are valued. The UTS JD is known for its high-quality course content, flexible structure and extensive experiential learning opportunities. It’s also internationally recognised – where you go, it goes too!

JURIS DOCTOR GRADUATE CERTIFICATE IN TRADE MARK LAW AND PRACTICE (JDGCTMLP)
One degree, two qualifications, and specialist skills in trade mark law. With the JDGCTMLP, you’ll graduate ready to register as a trade mark attorney, and you’ll also be qualified to practise law (after completion of Practical Legal Training) once you finish your course.

JURIS DOCTOR GRADUATE CERTIFICATE IN PROFESSIONAL LEGAL PRACTICE (JDGCPLP)
In a hurry? The JDGCPLP incorporates our world-class JD qualification with a Practical Legal Training component: as soon as you graduate, you’ll be ready to practise as a lawyer. The best bit is, it’s still a 3-year degree – our unique Summer session structure lets you complete all your degree requirements in the same period as you’d complete a standard JD.

JURIS DOCTOR MASTER OF INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY (JDMIP)
IP enthusiast? Get two qualifications in one with the unique UTS JDMIP. You’ll graduate ready to register as a patent or trade mark attorney and to practise as a lawyer (after completion of Practical Legal Training). It’s flexible too: daytime and evening core JD subjects are taught on campus every week, while IP subjects are offered entirely online.

JURIS DOCTOR GRADUATE CERTIFICATE IN PROFESSIONAL LEGAL PRACTICE (JDGCPLP)

JURIS DOCTOR MASTER OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION (JDMBA)
Business and law go hand in hand and nowhere better than with this combined degree. Enjoy a flexible course structure, acquire world-class postgraduate business and law qualifications, and gain exposure to professional practice in both disciplines.

No law degree? No problem.

The UTS JD is an internationally recognised graduate entry qualification for non-law graduates. It prepares you to work as a lawyer (after completion of Practical Legal Training), or to apply your legal expertise to a wealth of different careers. The best part? UTS is the foremost provider of JD education in Sydney – and it shows.

Our industry-informed curriculum is built on academic rigour, and champions practical experience. And the course is seriously flexible: day and evening classes for core subjects, selected block subjects and online study for electives, as well as recorded lectures and podcasts (for some subjects) if you need to catch up. We’re also committed to supporting our students, with a series of mentoring programs to guide you during your studies.

15 JD Core Subjects + 1 Legal Theory Option + 5 JD Options
For more than 25 years, UTS has led the way in the delivery of academically rigorous – and industry recognised – IP courses.

The JDMIP combines legal and specialist IP qualifications in a single degree that’s accredited with the Trans-Tasman IP Attorneys Board (TTIAB).

You’ll study core law subjects and IP theory, build professional expertise in patents and trade marks, and you’ll graduate ready to register as a patent or trade mark attorney in Australia and New Zealand. Blended learning is also key to this course: core law subjects are delivered on campus, while IP subjects are offered entirely online.

Want to go straight from classroom to courtroom?

This course combines an internationally recognised law degree with the practical legal training (PLT) required for admission to practise law in NSW. In fact, it’s the only integrated law and PLT degree in Sydney. It’s a great option if you’re in a hurry – you can complete it in three years (with some summer study), just like a straight JD – without compromising on quality. You’ll still enjoy the rigorous curriculum, practical experience and flexible course structure of the UTS JD – and the esteem it’s held in by prospective employers.

Offering genuine flexibility is important to us and we believe we offer the most flexible JD in Sydney. Enjoy the benefits our flexible timetabling, small class sizes and student centred practice-oriented learning model provide. The JD is structured with core law subjects offered in multiple timeslots as both day and evening classes and intensive block study in some electives, helping you to tailor classes to suit your needs. The ability to switch easily between full-time and part-time study is also available if your circumstances change. Recorded lectures can also be accessed on your portable devices enabling you to listen to them at times convenient for you.

Class sizes consist of max 35 – 40 students

Meet our experts

Professor Katherine Biber
BA Hons, LLB Hons, MCrIm Hons, PhD

Katherine is a legal scholar, historian and criminologist, and her research examines criminal evidence, documentation and visual culture. Her research underpins her teaching in the latest aspects of evidence such as visual identification and documentary evidence in the digital era. Katherine received a prestigious Discovery Project grant for her research on infamous Australian outlaw Jimmy Governor. By critically examining the legal processes applied to Governor, her research will improve our understanding of Australia’s enduring legal institutions and the extent to which they were influenced by acts of criminal dissidence.

‘Above World Standard’

UTS Law’s research is defined by its scholarly rigour, practical orientation, and rich diversity. The Commonwealth Government’s 2015 Excellence in Research for Australia (ERA) assessment found that the quality of our research eclipsed more established Australian law schools and is well above the national average for the Law discipline.

UTS Law received a ranking of ‘Above World Standard’

David Carter
BA Comms, LLB (Hon I), GradDip Theol., LLM (Research)

A past Quentin Bryce Law Doctoral Fellow, David is an expert in the legal, regulatory and governance challenges of health care service delivery. Health has been a recurring theme in his legal career: he teaches across areas such as health law; quality, safety and cost in health care; and comparative health care systems, and he completed a Master of Laws (LLM) by research on the use of HIV-related criminal offences in the governance of HIV transmission. His research interests span law and medicine, commercial and business law in health care, health practitioner regulation and public health law, among others. He is currently developing an interdisciplinary approach to the criminal prosecution of iatrogenic (healthcare-related) deaths in Australian hospitals.

- Strategic Litigation Chair

Associate Professor Thalia Anthony
LLB (Hons I), BA (Hons), MCrIm, PhD

Thalia’s expertise is in the areas of criminal law and procedure, and Indigenous people and the law. Her research has impacted on policy development and public debates in relation to remedies for wrongs inflicted on Indigenous peoples. Thalia’s work is driving the development of strategies to embed Indigenous cultural competencies in UTS Law curricula. She recently received an ARC Linkage Grant for a national project that investigates the criminalisation of poverty and homelessness in Australia.

Associate Professor Penny Crofts
BEC, LLB (Hons), LLM, MPhil, PhD Philosophy

Penny is an international expert on criminal law, models of culpability and the legal regulation of the sex industry. Her teaching intersects with a comprehensive program of research that calls for a critical response to existing models of culpability that are enforced by criminal law. Penny’s analysis of criminal legal models of wickedness has contributed to a jurisprudence of blameworthiness, and many of her recommendations for the legal regulation of brothels have informed Parliamentary debates, influenced council planning policies and shaped proposed law reforms.

Sleeves up, hands on: experiential learning opportunities

Nothing prepares you for the real world like hands-on experience. With our experiential learning opportunities, you can apply your theoretical knowledge in professional contexts, connect with likeminded students and academic mentors, and take your law degree all over the world.

MOOTING
Find your voice with our award-winning mooting program and develop skills that are coveted by future employers. You’ll gain courtroom experience, research skills and the ability to persuasively argue a case in court. Work your way up from junior competitions through to merit-based national, international and inter-varsity moots, with expert coaching from UTS Law academics.

LOCAL LEGAL INTERNSHIP
Build your networks and work-readiness with a local legal internship. Placements are available at Redfern Legal Centre’s International Student Clinic, or in the legal departments of Stockland or Toyota Finance Australia Ltd. You’ll gain practical legal experience, see the law in action and benefit from UTS Law’s extensive industry connections.

MENTORING PROGRAMS
A UTS Law degree doesn’t have to be a solitary experience. In fact, our mentoring opportunities can support you through different stages of your course. The First Year Mentoring Program connects you with peers and senior law students to help you develop your legal study skills. At the top of your game? Our High Achievers’ Mentoring Program matches peak performers with influential legal experts, including The Hon Michael Kirby AC CMG, The Hon Ronald Sackville and Judge Ann Ainslie-Wallace.

UTS LAW STUDENTS’ SOCIETY
Looking for your people? The UTS Law Students’ Society is a student-run organisation that represents and promotes the interests of students like you. Access career support through newsletters and careers guides, build your professional capabilities with legal advocacy and skills competitions, and get connected with social and networking events. You can also have your say through our Postgraduate Representative to ensure the graduate voice is heard. utsiss.com

GLOBAL PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE PROJECT
What better way to gain real-world experience than by setting out into the real – big, wide – world? The Global Professional Experience Project is an international internship subject that gives you the chance to take your law degree overseas. You’ll spend approximately four weeks on placement with one of our international partners, working on a real legal project and considering the law and related policy issues in a global context.

GLOBAL EXCHANGE
Get an international perspective on the law with the UTS Global Exchange program. You can study for one or two sessions at a partner university in Asia, Europe or the Americas – without extending your degree. That’s right: while you’re off seeing the world, you’ll continue receiving credit for your UTS Juris Doctor, so you can still graduate on time.
Social justice at the core

The law is a powerful tool for enacting social justice – and we want you to see it in action. We’ve developed a series of subjects, projects and internships that’ll get you up close and personal with the law and its contribution to the greater good.

BRENNAN JUSTICE AND LEADERSHIP PROGRAM
Justice consciousness, idealism and a sense of service – these are the values of the Brennan Justice and Leadership Program. You’ll build intellectual, service and leadership capabilities, and engage with lectures and discussion on themes of justice and its social context. You’ll also put the concept of service into practice by taking on volunteer positions throughout your degree – and you’ll do it all as part of an innovative program that’s unique to UTS. The result? You’ll gain theoretical knowledge, practical experience and a network of connections beyond the curriculum of your law degree, and become a champion of social justice along the way.

EXPERIENTIAL LAW AND PRACTICE
Hands-on experience? There’s no better way to build practical legal skills. With the Experiential Law and Practice subject, you’ll spend eight weeks working in a government or non-government agency, observing how the law can drive social change. Placement partners include Legal Aid NSW, the Shopfront Youth Legal Centre, the NSW Office of the Ombudsman, Anti-Slavery Australia, Native Title Service Provider for Aboriginal Traditional Owners in NSW and ACT, and the Aboriginal Legal Service.

APPLIED HUMAN RIGHTS FIELDWORK
A proactive approach to impacting disadvantaged communities is what this fieldwork program is all about. You’ll start with the theory, studying development, economic and social rights, and the practice of human rights. Next, you’ll take what you’ve learned and apply it in the field with the 40K Globe Program. Created by a UTS Law Grad, 40K is centred around a four-week placement in a developing country where you’ll build a social business that delivers revenue to the local community. You’ll also teach the local kids – many of whom live in poverty or have limited access to education – while you’re there.
Becoming a lawyer

In Australia, legal practice is regulated at state level.

In NSW you must satisfy the requirements of the Legal Profession Admission Board (LPAB) in order to practise law. The study path for entry to the legal profession in NSW begins with undertaking an accredited law degree. Then, in order to be eligible for admission to practice, it is necessary to complete an accredited program of practical legal training (PLT).

UTS is the only university in Sydney to offer both these components.

Further information on gaining admission as a lawyer in New South Wales is provided by Legal Profession Admission Board (LPAB) via lpab.justice.nsw.gov.au

Lawyers, solicitors and barristers

Lawyer is a broad term that refers to both solicitors and barristers.

For the most part, solicitors provide general legal advice to their clients. Their role also includes settling disputes, drafting documents, directing negotiations and/or representing their clients in court or tribunal proceedings.

Barristers are specialist advocates and spend the majority of their practice presenting cases in court or formal hearings on behalf of their clients. Barristers are likely to specialise in certain areas of the law, for example criminal law. They also provide specialist legal advice and act as mediators, arbitrators, referees or conciliators. Barristers are independent practitioners and are generally referred clients by solicitors who provide the background ‘brief’ on a case.

Practise is great, but practice makes perfect, especially when it comes to a legal career. Already got a law degree? Practical legal training is a mandatory requirement for admission to practise law in NSW, and the Graduate Certificate in Professional Legal Practice will get you over the line.

You’ll experience university-standard teaching combined with interactive content and practice-oriented exercises that bridge the gap between knowledge and professional practice. You’ll develop the advanced knowledge and skills required for a legal career, including judgement, adaptability and an ethical mindset. Best of all, you’ll be studying at a trailblazing institution: UTS was the first university in Sydney to offer practical legal training.

The UTS PLT Program consists of four subjects:

1. LEGAL AND PROFESSIONAL SKILLS
   Addresses the necessary skills and ethical obligations to be an effective lawyer, including client-centred practice and the obligations relating to a solicitor’s trust account.

2. TRANSACTIONAL PRACTICE
   Focuses on the law, practice, procedure and skills to enable graduates to conduct and advise on Property Transactions and Commercial Transactions.

3. LITIGATION AND ESTATE PRACTICE
   Covers the practice and procedures of Civil Litigation Practice, Wills and Estate Practice and Family Law Practice or Criminal Law Practice.

4. PRACTICAL EXPERIENCE
   Undertake a minimum of 15 weeks of full-time (or equivalent part-time) work experience in a legal office environment.

Once you have completed your academic law study and your Practical Legal Training, you may make an application for admission to the Supreme Court of NSW to practise as a lawyer.

WHAT POSITION DO YOU CURRENTLY HOLD AND WHERE?
Advocate for Students at a University.

WHAT DOES YOUR JOB INVOLVE?
I assist students in navigating and understanding the often complex procedures and policies of a University. Other aspects include dispute resolution, guiding them through discipline processes and general support.

HOW DID YOU FIND PRACTICAL LEGAL TRAINING AT UTS?
I studied the course part-time. I had the advantage of taking the Legal Professional Skills unit over summer as a nice way to ease into the program. The on-campus sessions with the workshops were enlightening and enjoyable. Having skilled practitioners for various modules meant we weren’t learning from just a book or practice note, we were learning from real practitioners who brought with them a wealth of experience and know-how.

WHAT ARE THE MOST USEFUL OR IMPORTANT THINGS YOU LEARNED FROM YOUR STUDIES?
Studying at UTS has been professional development and career enhancement. I’ve learnt that while a law degree will teach you about law, it is only half the story until you undertake PLT. The idea that sending a simple but well crafted letter to resolve an issue is quite potent. As such I am very satisfied UTS has helped me to be prepared for the next stages of my legal career through its programs as well as reputation for producing quality graduates with strong problem solving and initiative skills.

WHO DO YOU CURRENTLY WORK FOR, WHAT IS YOUR ROLE TITLE, AND WHAT IS ITS FOCUS?
I’m the Graduate Resourcing Manager for King & Wood Mallesons (KWM) and I have overall responsibility to deliver one of Australia’s market leading and largest law student intakes of approximately 160 vacation clerks and 75 graduates.

CAN YOU TELL ME ABOUT KWM?
We differentiate KWM through our people. We have the best people, doing the best work for the best clients. Working in collaborative, flexible teams we always push the boundaries to deliver out of the box solutions that create market firsts and set new precedents.

We strive towards creating a great place to work and grow where people across the firm feel valued, have access to the support they need to do their jobs effectively and are offered development opportunities tailored to their needs and the chance to make a positive impact.

As a leading international law firm headquartered in Asia, we connect Asia to the world, and the world to Asia. We support our Asian clients as they go offshore and international clients as they do business in Asia, helping them understand local challenges, navigate through regional complexity and find commercial solutions that deliver a competitive advantage.

WHY DO YOU LIKE WORKING AT KWM?
What I appreciate most about the firm is its continued investment in its people. The training and support allows unrivalled opportunities to develop and achieve your goals.

WHAT IS YOUR IMPRESSION OF UTS LAW GRADUATES?
I have been involved with the UTS Law School for 16 years and I am always incredibly impressed with the deep professional skills the UTS graduates develop as part of their course.

More recently we have also seen a very strong focus on innovation from UTS Law graduates. This was no more apparent than at the KWM/UTS Breaking Law Hackathon in March this year. It was incredible to see multidisciplinary teams from students across UTS collaborate with KWM lawyers to develop technology driven solutions to real-life legal problems.

WHY IS KWM INTERESTED IN EMPLOYING UTS LAW GRADUATES?
At KWM we look for graduates who are critical thinkers with a global outlook and we know this is very much embedded in to the UTS course structure.

WHAT WOULD YOU TELL A GRADUATE THINKING ABOUT WORKING AT KING & WOOD MALLESONS?
KWM will offer you the opportunity to excel. A career with us is unique and challenging with clear rewards.

ANY FINAL THOUGHTS?
Choosing the right firm is an important decision. Research what’s key to you as an individual and make sure that’s on offer to you as a graduate.

Summer Clerkship Programs

UTS Law participates in the Graduate Employment and Summer Clerkship Program in conjunction with major Sydney law firms and government departments.

The programs are generally open to penultimate and final-year law students. Students who participate develop a greater understanding of employment opportunities, gain legal knowledge and add experience to their CV. These programs are co-ordinated by the Law Society of NSW for the benefit of law firms in NSW and law schools.
WHY DO YOU LIKE WORKING AT ALLENS?
I enjoy working at Allens because of the people and the culture. The firm has a high performance culture that I find motivating and supportive. The work is challenging, the people are innovative, the culture is encouraging and together these elements help you drive your career and achieve your goals.

WHAT IS YOUR IMPRESSION OF UTS LAW GRADUATES?
My impression is very positive. UTS students are commercially focused and practical in the workforce. We have a strong UTS alumni tradition within the firm that we would like to continue. UTS graduates are top quality students, who come across in the recruitment process in a very positive manner.

WHY IS ALLENS INTERESTED IN EMPLOYING UTS LAW GRADUATES?
At Allens we pride ourselves on having a diverse workforce, recruiting from a wide range of universities. We’re interested in UTS graduates as often they have a commercial focus, and bring strong qualities to the firm. For example, the kinds of attributes we are looking for from graduates are initiative, technical excellence at the graduate level, commerciality and resilience. Additionally, we also look for well-rounded graduates that can bring diversity and a fresh perspective to the firm.

WHAT WOULD YOU TELL A GRADUATE THINKING ABOUT WORKING AT ALLENS?
Allens is an excellent place to start your career with plenty of opportunity to progress. Our ‘Career Deal’ allows you to progress at your own pace based on performance, rather than time spent at the firm. Our people are well supported, with performance coaches and development supervisors to support their growth and help with their career progression. We have a strong commitment to lifelong learning, with market leading training programs for all levels to help them reach their potential. We also offer international opportunities through our alliance with Linklaters including secondments to Europe, the Middle East, Asia and the US. Graduate rotations to London are also on offer at Linklaters. Beyond client work, there are opportunities to get involved in pro bono initiatives, charity work, as well as the Women at Allens committee, the RAP committee or the LGBTI committee.

ANY FINAL THOUGHTS?
Thanks for the opportunity and we look forward to meeting UTS students throughout their studies and once they graduate.
THE ACADEMIC YEAR
