Why Law at UTS?

Not all law degrees are created equal. Here’s why you should choose ours.

Practical Legal Training

Finishing your degree is one thing, but you need to complete practical legal training (PLT) before you can practise law in NSW. And you’re in luck: UTS was the first university in Sydney to offer PLT, thanks to our Graduate Certificate in Professional Legal Practice.

Study with the experts

Who you learn from makes a big difference. Our teaching community is made up of professional and academic leaders with expertise across all areas of legal practice and research. They’ll help you build your theoretical and practical knowledge, and professional confidence – essential tools for a legal career.

Real-world experience

The industry is increasingly placing emphasis on the professional adaptability of law graduates. To meet tomorrow’s demands, UTS offers a range of ground-breaking initiatives, such as the Allens Neota Law Tech Challenge for Social Justice.
At the forefront of technology

A first in Australia, UTS Law's specialist major in Legal Futures and Technology will help you build the skills of the lawyer of the future.

Study in the heart of Sydney

UTS Law sits in the heart of one of the world's greatest cities. You'll be close to everything you need, including the CBD, transport, law firms, courts, and barristers' chambers.

Practice makes perfect

UTS Law takes pride in its authentic approach to practical learning. Experience law in action with hands-on opportunities built into your law degree. These include internships with in-house legal counsel, community legal centres and firms locally and internationally, as well as summer clerkship programs.

Top of the class

The highest achieving UTS Law students get an edge with the Dean's Merit List Award, which is recognised across all universities and the employment sector.

Graduate in demand

The average annual salary for UTS Law graduates is $70,000, compared to the national average of $62,600 for all Australian universities*. Employers value our graduates for their problem solving, collaborative skills and lateral thinking ability.

A more just world for all

The Brennan Justice and Leadership Program is built on the concepts of justice consciousness, idealism and a sense of service. Engage with issues of social justice through lectures, discussion groups and volunteering opportunities, and learn to think about the role of the law in creating a more equal world.
Welcome to your future home

Located next to the UTS Tower and opposite Central Park on Broadway, UTS Law's home is a striking, 17-storey, glass-encased building called ‘UTS Central’.

An intertwining double helix staircase made from Australian steel and curved glass connects levels 4 to 7. The double ribbon spiral design is not only an impressive design feature, but it is also a reminder of how breakthroughs in science and technology have transformed our world.
Key features

- The Library and Reading Room span levels 5 to 10, with a direct connection to the high-tech Library Retrieval System buried below Alumni Green, via a dedicated book lift to service the library spaces above. The Reading Room features a dramatic triple-height space topped with a large skylight, creating a light-filled space for quiet work and reading.

- A dedicated food court gives students and staff on-campus access to a new range of authentic, diverse, affordable and healthy food options, as well as a vibrant space to eat, study and socialise. Food outlets in this food court have switched to compostable food packaging and are eliminating plastic straws, bags and coffee cups in support of UTS's Plastic Free by 2020 plan.

- The futuristic building houses state of the art trial courts along-side purpose-built study spaces and common areas. Students will benefit from the carefully designed Moot Court which is as close as you can get to the actual court rooms of the Supreme, District and Local courts. The new Student Services Hub is also in the building. Everything you need for the optimum legal learning experience is in the one modern, light filled and versatile space.
The most rewarding part of my law degree has been graduating from the Brennan Justice and Leadership Program. As part of this program, I volunteered at the largest community legal centre in NSW. I learnt a great deal about social justice and witnessed how solicitors can empower people with their application of law each and every day.

PIA GONZALEZ
Bachelor of Business
Bachelor of Laws
Social justice at the core

The law is a powerful tool for enacting social justice – and we want you to see it in action. We’ve developed a series of subjects, projects and internships that’ll get you up close and personal with the law and its contribution to the greater good.

BUILD NETWORKS THAT COUNT
Justice consciousness, idealism and a sense of service – these are the values of the Brennan Justice and Leadership Program. You’ll build intellectual, service and leadership capabilities, and engage with lectures and discussion on themes of justice and its social context. You’ll also put the concept of service into practice by taking on volunteer positions throughout your degree – and you’ll do it all as part of an innovative program that’s unique to UTS. The result? You’ll gain theoretical knowledge, practical experience and a network of connections beyond the curriculum of your law degree, becoming a champion of social justice along the way.

BUILD PROGRAM
BUILD (Beyond UTS International Leadership Development) is a global leadership program that will help you develop your global mindset as a global citizen. Get involved in short-term offshore experiential opportunities, covering summer schools, volunteering and community projects, internships, experiential learning, and other tailored mobility programs.

ALLENS NEOTA UTS LAW TECH CHALLENGE FOR SOCIAL JUSTICE
As part of the Brennan Justice and leadership Program, we’ve teamed up with international law firm, Allens, and software firm, Neota Logic, to create the “Allens Neota UTS Law Tech Challenge for Social Justice” program (#LawTechChallenge). This program gives UTS Law students the opportunity to develop apps that promote access to justice and make tailored legal information more reachable.

LAW AND JUSTICE STUDIES
Want more hands-on experience? With the Law and Justice Studies subject, you’ll spend two weeks working in a government or non-government agency, observing how the law can drive social change. Agencies include Legal Aid NSW, the Shopfront Youth Legal Centre, the NSW Office of the Ombudsman, Anti-Slavery Australia, and the Aboriginal Legal Service.
Technology - It's a part of our curriculum

Today, a successful legal career is about more than knowing how to apply the law: the next generation of jobs will be shaped by the changing digital landscape.

LEGAL FUTURES AND TECHNOLOGY MAJOR
As a university of technology, you stay ahead – which is why we offer the Legal Futures and Technology major. It’s a new specialisation, available in the standalone and combined Bachelor of Laws degrees, and it’s been designed to assist you build the skills you need in an increasingly technology oriented workforce. Starting in the second last year of your degree, this major is comprised of capstone subjects, specialist electives, and the chance to complete an internship in the legal futures and technology field.

You’ll also gain hands-on experience with the tools that are shaping the future of legal practice – think artificial intelligence tools for research and discovery, online apps for dispute resolution, and expert systems that generate documents like wills and contracts – so when you encounter them in the real world, you’ll be ready to make them work for you.

We have a responsibility to students to reflect what’s happening externally. Our graduates need to speak the languages of other professions to understand the new ways lawyers need to work.

Lesley Hitchens received the Financial Times’ Legal Innovator of the Year award for 2018. The award recognises her commitment to embracing new technologies and her leadership in creating technology focused areas of study and learning, within the Faculty of Law.

Through UTS Law’s Legal Futures and Technology Major, I had the opportunity to complete an internship with Westpac’s in-house legal team. I was involved in the development of legal technology solutions and learnt about legal technology issues including the EU General Data Protection Regulation, open banking and data ethics. This experience has been invaluable to the development of my understanding of the law.

Bachelor of Laws
COURSE DESCRIPTION

A Bachelor of Laws has a clear-eyed focus: the law, how to apply it, and how to turn it into a career. As one of Sydney’s leading law degrees, this course will help you build professional capabilities in all things law, as well as the ‘soft’ skills (problem solving, analytical thinking, spoken and written communication) required to get ahead in the workforce. You’ll become well-versed in the mechanisms – and quirks – of the Australian legal system, and you’ll gain core skills in common law principles before you specialise. We offer a huge range of law electives – think environmental law, human rights law, or our new Legal Futures and Technology major, to name a few – so you can take a deep dive into your professional (or personal) interests. You can also expand your horizons by enrolling in electives from other faculties – how you customise your degree is up to you. And if you’re really set on starting your career as a law practitioner as soon as possible, use your electives to complete your practical legal training and get ready for admission in just four years!

CAREER OPTIONS

A law degree opens up many opportunities for an exciting and rewarding career. While many graduates will go on to practise in the traditional legal profession, many others will pursue alternative careers.

Examples include:
- Solicitor
- Barrister
- Policy adviser
- In-house counsel
- Human rights advocate
- Business executive
- Politician
- Diplomat
- Entrepreneur
- Management consultant
- Research officer

COURSE DESCRIPTION
Use science to fight crime and the law to seek justice with this unique double degree combination. If you’ve ever imagined yourself in the lab – or at a crime scene – using science to enforce the law, consider how a solid legal grounding could enhance your expertise. As a Forensic Science student, you’ll major in either biology, chemistry, crime scene investigation or digital forensics, working in world-class facilities that have been modelled on operational labs. In your Law studies, you’ll study the foundations of the law before choosing an elective path that complements your scientific interests – with our unique Legal Futures and Technology major, you can even build niche skills in tech-specific areas like cryptocurrency, smart contracts, AI and blockchain as they relate to legal practice.

CAREER OPTIONS
- Chemistry
- Biology
- Crime Scene Investigation
- Digital Forensics

CAREER OPTIONS
Solicitor or barrister specialising in the analysis of forensic reports and cross-examining expert witnesses, or forensic scientist providing independent, objective expert scientific opinion and evidence to the justice system and community within your chosen field of forensic discipline (major). Career opportunities exist within the police service, state and federal law enforcement agencies, government and private forensic or drug detection laboratories, customs, environmental protection agencies, pharmaceutical, chemical and analytical.

Course description
Lay the foundations for a lasting career. This course combines engineering’s technical demands with the theoretical and analytical foundations involved in studying law. And they’re a great match: there’s growing demand across the engineering and construction industries for legal experts with a background in all things technical. The Bachelor of Engineering Science is an engineering technology program that will prepare you to work with professional engineers, while the Bachelor of Law prepares you to practise law in NSW (after you complete your practical legal training). Want more? You can further enhance your tech expertise with the Legal Futures and Technology major and build an understanding of the forces that are shaping the legal sector of tomorrow.

Course description

Medical and health practice, medical and biological research, industrial and commercial enterprise: they’re all areas of medical science where legal expertise is of crucial importance. With the Bachelor of Medical Science/Bachelor of Laws, you can prepare for specialist roles in the field of health care law – and you’ll gain a skill set that’s in high demand. You’ve got options: study the two degrees as separate qualifications, gaining core skills in both science and law and choosing elective subjects that suit your individual interests. Or, build even stronger links between the two by choosing electives with a health care or research focus, such as biomedical, mental health or intellectual property law.

Career options

This course lays the groundwork for a specialist career in the field of health care law. Graduates can work as lawyers, in-house counsel, policy makers or researchers in areas where a strong background in human biology, medical diagnostics, neuroscience or pharmacology is valued.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

We live in an era of digital disruption. Building a strong foundation in IT will help you stay ahead of the curve when it comes to leveraging technology for professional gain. At its core, this course is about building practice-based IT skills that you can integrate into a legal career – or the legal skills you need to work in the highly competitive world of IT. Consolidate your expertise by enrolling in the Legal Futures and Technology major and use your IT knowledge to explore the mechanics of emerging legal technologies. While the two degrees are distinct in terms of course content, they also share some common ground: they’ll both help you build critical thinking and problem-solving capabilities, and they both emphasise the importance of soft skills like communication and collaboration – all of which are critical to your professional success.

IT MAJORS
- Business Information Systems Management
- Data Analytics
- Enterprise Systems Development
- Networking and Cyber Security

CAREER OPTIONS

Computing professional in legal practice, legal publishing or law firms, in-house legal counsel or consultant to an IT or software company, professional in the chosen IT specialisation, such as a data analyst, database designer/manager, IT architect, IT project manager, software developer, systems analyst, and web developer.
COURSE DESCRIPTION
Disrupt or be disrupted – that’s the reality of the future world of work. Get ahead of the game by combining the traditions of law with an innovation mindset. The UTS Bachelor of Creative Intelligence and Innovation (BCII) is focused on creating new value through transdisciplinary problem-solving, while the Bachelor of Laws is all about developing expertise in legal theory and practice. By combining the two, you’ll be ready to solve complex challenges, work collaboratively across and between disciplines, and apply theoretical knowledge beyond traditional professional boundaries. The upshot? You’ll graduate ready to bring a contemporary and solutions-focused approach to a career in law, or to use your legal expertise as a solid foundation for entrepreneurial, collaborative, strategic or analytical positions across a range of professional sectors.

CAREER OPTIONS
Solicitor, barrister, entrepreneur, speculative start up consultant, entrepreneurial lawyer, commercial lawyer, corporate lawyer, creative enterprise manager, product development and lifecycle manager, market researcher, strategic analyst and brand development manager.

COURSE DESCRIPTION

Wanderlust? Great news – you can travel the world and gain credit for your studies with this unique combined degree. That’s right: with the Bachelor of Arts in International Studies/Bachelor of Laws, you’ll spend a year of your degree studying overseas at a UTS partner university. Here’s how it works: in years 1-3, you’ll combine your legal studies – core subjects plus your choice of electives or majors, including the Legal Futures and Technology major with its focus on the apps, systems and platforms that’ll underpin your future legal practice – with an intensive investigation of the language and culture of your chosen country major. In your fourth year, you’ll take the leap and jet off for two sessions of in-country study overseas. This is travel with a purpose. The experience – and the expertise you’ll gain along the way – will help you develop an understanding of cross-cultural legal issues. As a result, you’ll be ready to work internationally, or to provide legal expertise for international organisations or foreign investors, once you finish your course.

- Switzerland

CAREER OPTIONS

Lawyer or legal policy adviser within a government department, private law firm or commercial or corporate sector with international links. You can work with international organisations such as the United Nations and opportunities also exist in foreign affairs.

*Selection ranks: published ranks indicate the lowest selection rank (ATAR plus any adjustment points applied through eligible admissions schemes) to which an offer was made to a domestic Current School Leaver (Year 12) in the Autumn 2020 intake (for December Round 2 and January Round 1).
Sleeves up, hands on: experiential learning opportunities

Nothing prepares you for the real world like hands-on experience. With our experiential learning opportunities, you can apply your theoretical knowledge in professional contexts, connect with likeminded students and academic mentors, and take your law degree all over the world.

MOOTING
Find your voice with our award-winning mooting program and develop skills that are coveted by future employers. You’ll gain courtroom experience, research skills and the ability to persuasively argue a case in court. Work your way up from junior competitions through to merit based national, international and intervarsity moots, with expert coaching from UTS Law academics.

MENTORING PROGRAMS
A UTS Law degree doesn’t have to be a solitary experience. In fact, our mentoring opportunities can support you through different stages of your course. The First Year Mentoring Program connects you with peers and senior law students to help you develop your legal study skills. At the top of your game? Our High Achievers’ Mentoring Program matches peak performers with influential legal experts, including The Hon Michael Kirby AC CMG and Judge Ann Ainslie-Wallace.

UTS LAW STUDENTS’ SOCIETY
Looking for your people? The UTS Law Students’ Society is a student-run organisation that represents and promotes the interests of students like you. Access career support through newsletters and careers guides, build your professional capabilities with legal advocacy and skills competitions, and get connected with social and networking events.

LOCAL LEGAL INTERNSHIP
Build your networks and work readiness with a local legal internship. Placements are available at Redfern Legal Centre’s International Student Clinic, or in the legal departments of Stockland or Toyota Finance Australia Ltd. You’ll gain practical legal experience, see the law in action and benefit from UTS Law’s extensive industry connections.
At UTS, education spans beyond the classroom. You will be supported to take your skills global. Add an edge to your degree with an international study experience that’ll give you a global perspective on the law.

GLOBAL EXCHANGE
See the world and get credit for your studies with the UTS Global Exchange program. You can spend up to two sessions studying at one of our partner universities in Asia, Europe or the Americas – so what are you waiting for? At UTS, we’re all about global mobility – in fact, we want all our students to spend part of their degree overseas. Join the exodus and build academic, cultural and professional connections that’ll put you a cut above the rest.

GO. TAKE ON THE WORLD
The law is a global concept, so why not take your studies out into the world? With an international elective, you’ll spend 2–8 weeks overseas during summer or winter break. You’ll gain hands-on experience in a real-world work environment, and you’ll also learn to think about the law in an international context by doing a legal internship in an overseas company, or applied human rights fieldwork where you’ll use the law as a tool for the greater good.

STUDY A DIPLOMA IN LANGUAGE CONCURRENTLY
Bring the world to your doorstep with a Diploma in Languages. Add this year-long diploma to your UTS degree to gain language and cultural skills, build your professional identity, and graduate with a range of capabilities that’ll prepare you for an international career. Language options include Chinese, French, German, Italian, Japanese and Spanish. No need to apply just yet – the diploma is available to students already studying an undergraduate coursework degree program at UTS, so sign up when you enrol. No matter what you study, the diploma can give your qualification an international advantage.
I am grateful for my experiences at UTS for two reasons. First, they equipped me to deal with the pressures of studying, living and working in a bustling city environment. Second, I feel that such a practical focus has enabled me to excel over here (New York City) in my approach to the study and practice of law - enabling me to identify issues and develop methods to resolve them, rather than getting caught up in theory.

NICHOLAS SAADY
Bachelor of Laws (First Class Honours) (2018)

Upon graduation, Nicholas received the University Medal in Law. He has worked as a vacation clerk, paralegal, graduate and solicitor at Herbert Smith Freehills. In 2019, Nick was awarded the Law Dean’s Graduate Award Scholarship to study at NYU Law School.

HONOURS

The Bachelor of Laws (LLB) may be awarded with First or Second Class Honours, which does not require an additional honours year. Honours is based on academic excellence throughout the degree and the completion of a research methodology subject and a research thesis within the LLB.

Rules apply, see handbook.uts.edu.au/law
So, you want to become a lawyer?

Here's how...

In Australia, legal practice is regulated at state level.

In NSW you must satisfy the requirements of the Legal Profession Admission Board (LPAB) in order to practise law. The study path for entry to the legal profession in NSW begins with undertaking an accredited law degree. Then, in order to be eligible for admission to practice, it is necessary to complete an accredited program of practical legal training (PLT).

UTS was the first university in Sydney to offer both these components, so we offer one-stop legal education.

Further information on gaining admission as a lawyer in New South Wales is provided by Legal Profession Admission Board (LPAB) via lpab.justice.nsw.gov.au

Lawyers, solicitors and barristers

‘Lawyer’ is a broad term that refers to both solicitors and barristers.

For the most part, solicitors provide general legal advice to their clients. Their role also includes settling disputes, drafting documents, directing negotiations and/or representing their clients in court or tribunal proceedings. Barristers are specialist advocates and spend the majority of their practice presenting cases in court or formal hearings on behalf of their clients. Barristers are likely to specialise in certain areas of the law, for example criminal law. They also provide specialist legal advice and act as mediators, arbitrators, referees or conciliators. Barristers are independent practitioners and are generally referred clients by solicitors who provide the background ‘brief’ on a case.

For more information visit:
NSW Law Society: lawsociety.com.au
NSW Bar Association: nswbar.asn.au
If you are looking to use your legal qualification to start a career in law practice, you can add practical legal training to your degree at UTS. Practical legal training is a mandatory requirement for admission to practise law in NSW, and the UTS Graduate Certificate in Professional Legal Practice will get you there.

You’ll experience university-standard teaching combined with interactive content and practice-oriented exercises that bridge the gap between knowledge and professional practice. You’ll develop the advanced knowledge and skills required for a legal career, including judgement, adaptability and an ethical mindset. Best of all, you’ll be studying at a trailblazing institution: UTS was the first university in Sydney to offer practical legal training.

The UTS PLT Program consists of four subjects:

1. LEGAL AND PROFESSIONAL SKILLS
   Addresses the necessary skills and ethical obligations to be an effective lawyer, including client-centred practice and the obligations relating to a solicitor’s trust account.

2. TRANSACTIONAL PRACTICE
   Focuses on the law, practice, procedure and skills to enable graduates to conduct and advise on Property and Commercial Transactions.

3. LITIGATION AND ESTATE PRACTICE
   Covers the practice and procedures of Civil Litigation Practice, Wills and Estate Practice and Family Law Practice or Criminal Law Practice.

4. PRACTICAL EXPERIENCE
   Undertake a minimum of 15 weeks of full-time (or equivalent part-time) work experience in a legal office environment.

Once you have completed your academic law study and your practical legal training, you may make an application for admission to the Supreme of Court of NSW to practise as a lawyer.

Graduate Certificate in Professional Legal Practice

- Course Code: C11232
- Duration: 1 session full-time
  2 sessions part-time
- Teaching Mode:
  Option to study on-campus or distance mode (online, with 2-4 days on-campus attendance).
- Admission requirements:
  Bachelor of Laws, Juris Doctor or equivalent.
- Completion of this qualification does not guarantee entry. Offers are based on academic merit and are made on a competitive basis.
- Fees and FEE-HELP:
  Eligible students can apply for FEE-HELP to help cover the tuition fees for this course. See page 42 for details.
- Subject Availability:
  All PLT subjects are offered every Autumn, Spring and Summer sessions.
- Available intakes: Autumn, Spring and Summer sessions

Please note: If you study the Bachelor of Laws (standalone degree), PLT is included in your undergraduate degree.

Scholarships for high achievers

Academic achievement is worth celebrating – and our high achievers’ scholarships do just that. Some scholarships are awarded across all UTS undergraduate degrees (e.g. the UTS Vice Chancellor’s Outstanding Achievement Scholarship, valued at $12,500 per year for the duration of the course), while other scholarships are offered through our faculties (e.g. the UTS Law Dean’s Scholarship, valued at $10,000).

Equity scholarships

Our equity scholarships aim to overcome financial disadvantage in whatever form it takes. Whether you have a disability or ongoing medical condition, a rural home address, a refugee background or carer’s responsibilities, these scholarships can help make university study possible.

Scholarships for women

We pride ourselves on providing an inclusive work and study environment for women – in fact, we’ve been consistently recognised by the Workplace Gender Equality Agency for our efforts. We offer several scholarships to encourage women to undertake study in different areas.

Scholarships for Indigenous Australians

We’re committed to offering scholarships and prizes to support Aboriginal and Torres strait Islander students. Some of these are awarded on academic merit while others are equity-based.

Scholarships for athletes

You’ve given your life to your sport – now let your sport give something to you. ActivateUTS assists students to combine high-performance sport with their studies, so you’ll be supported to excel in both areas. They offer three scholarships: the Elite Athlete Program, Emerging Athlete Program and Elite Athlete Housing Scholarship. We also offer a few other scholarships for athletes to assist you in pursuing your academic and sporting goals.

Faculty of Law Equity Scholarship

A four-year scholarship worth $20,000 to support one commencing, full-time UTS Law student who demonstrates a high level of financial need or other disadvantage.

Law Dean’s Scholarship

A one-year scholarship worth $10,000 to support one school-leaver who commences a full-time UTS Law combined law degree who achieves a selection rank* of 98 or above.

Michael Whitbread Scholarship

A travel grant awarded to a UTS Bachelor of Laws or Juris Doctor student to assist with travel costs to London, United Kingdom, for recipient students to undertake a two-week unpaid internship at Barristers’ Chamber 7 Bedford Row.

Application dates

Scholarship application dates vary. Be sure to check the UTS scholarship website for specific closing dates.

Which scholarship is right for me?

With so many scholarships on offer, it can be tricky to figure out which ones you’re eligible for. Use our online search tool to filter scholarships according to the criteria that best describes you.

To find out more info on scholarships visit: uts.edu.au/scholarships

*Selection ranks: published ranks indicate the lowest selection rank (ATAR plus any adjustment points applied through eligible admissions schemes) to which an offer was made to a domestic Current 46 School Leaver (Year 12) in the Autumn 2020 intake (for December Round 2 and January Round 1).
Applying to UTS

How to apply
Ready to apply for a UTS degree? Start by choosing your preferred course and checking the eligibility requirements to make sure it’s a good fit. Next, submit your application via the Universities Admissions Centre – you can list up to five course preferences, so make sure you use them all!

More info:
uts.edu.au/ug-apply

Admission schemes
Need to boost your selection rank? Apply for a UTS admission scheme and we’ll consider your ATAR plus other selection criteria when we assess your application. There are a range of merit and access based schemes. If you’re a high achiever, or if life events have impacted your Year 12 results, these schemes can help you make the leap into your chosen degree.

More info:
uts.edu.au/admission-schemes

Admission pathways
Our admission pathways provide an alternative route into your preferred UTS course – and there are lots of pathways on offer. From internal programs (Insearch, Jumbunna Unistart and internal degree transfers) to external options (STAT test, limited ATARs or vocational diplomas), there’s more than one way to get into UTS.

More info:
uts.edu.au/admission-pathways

Science Aptitude Assessment
The Science Aptitude Assessment is an opportunity for you to demonstrate your potential, perhaps helping to secure an offer to study science at UTS. The assessment is designed to assess your analytical and critical thinking skills. It’s a general, knowledge-based assessment that doesn’t require special study.

More info:
uts.edu.au/scholarships

Fees and financial assistance
As a domestic student, you’ll study in Commonwealth Supported Place – the Australian Government will fund some of the cost of your study, while you’ll pay a student contribution and other fees direct to UTS. The good news? The HECS-HELP loan scheme lets you defer the cost of your student contribution until you reach a set income threshold. What’s more, the UTS Financial Assistance Service can help you get on top of your personal finances, giving you more time to focus on study.
