Bachelor of Arts in International Studies (combined degree only)

There’s no better way to prepare for the global workforce than to experience the world while you study. Combine one of 28 UTS courses with a Bachelor of Arts in International Studies and spend a whole year overseas in one of 14 countries.

Before you leave for the adventure of a lifetime, we’ll make sure you’re prepared with the language skills and cultural knowledge needed for your destination. We’ll also cover the cost of your return airfare, visa and insurance so all you have to worry about are your living and travel expenses.

By the time you graduate, you’ll have the professional skills from your core degree, intercultural competence, plus the ability to read, write and converse in another language. Your year abroad will also help you develop key soft skills like independence, resilience, communication and project management, which are all highly sought after by employers.

Diploma in Languages

Duration: 3 years part-time
2020 Selection Rank: N/A, apply once enrolled

Gain language and intercultural skills, build your professional identity, and graduate with a range of capabilities that’ll prepare you for an international career. With this additional qualification, you’ll open the door to your global future.

LANGUAGE OPTIONS:
– Chinese
– French
– German
– Italian
– Japanese
– Spanish

STUDY PATTERN
This diploma may be taken concurrently with your UTS degree. You’ll study one Diploma in Languages subject per session. For most UTS students, this will mean that enrolling in the Diploma will increase your load from 24cp per session (the standard full-time load for undergraduates) to 32cp per session. Overseas short-term study opportunities may also be available in July or Summer sessions.

LANGUAGE AND CULTURE SUBJECTS
You’ll study language and culture subjects, completing one subject a session over a total of six sessions. You’ll build capabilities in listening, speaking, reading and writing – and you’ll also explore the popular culture, cultural practices and current affairs related to your chosen region. When it comes to class allocation, you’ll be grouped according to your level of proficiency. No previous experiences in your chosen language? No problem – we’ve got classes to suit all levels.

WHY A DIPLOMA IN LANGUAGES AT UTS?
– Develop writing and speaking skills in at least one language other than English
– Give your professional degree an international edge
– Get prepared to succeed in a range of international environments and to embrace globalised work opportunities
– Don’t add time to your degree – study a Diploma alongside your professional degree

ADMISSION AND APPLICATION
– This course is offered on a three-year, part-time basis and must be taken concurrently with an undergraduate or postgraduate coursework degree program at UTS. Students with no prior language knowledge must commence in Autumn session.
– Once enrolled in a program at UTS, students can apply online for the Diploma of Languages via My Student Admin.

“Studying another language opens so many doors no matter what course you’re studying. Combined with Business, it means I am able to work for a Japanese company or even work in Japan. What I’ve enjoyed most about the diploma is the challenge, as well as the friendships I’ve made along the way. The variety of tasks we are given, as well as the teaching style, makes it really enjoyable too.”
