

UTS PRIZE CONDITIONS OF AWARD

UTS LEARNING AND TEACHING CITATIONS

DIVISION OF EDUCATION AND STUDENTS

This document sets out the conditions of award for the below Prize ('Prize') and the obligations of Recipients ('Recipient') and UTS in regards to this Prize. The administrative processes to support awarding this Prize will be managed, and may be amended, in accordance with UTS Rules, Policy and Procedures.

1. UTS LEARNING AND TEACHING AWARDS

2. PURPOSE

The UTS Learning and Teaching Awards and Citations recognise the importance of learning and teaching for both undergraduate and postgraduate students within the framework of the UTS model of global practice-oriented education. The Prizes are awarded to academic and professional staff who have made significant contributions to university learning and teaching.

3. VALUE AND BENEFIT

3.1 Number of Recipients: Usually up to ten (10) Recipients. These Recipients may be individuals or teams. In some years, more than ten (10) Recipients may be awarded.

3.2 Benefit/s to Recipient: $1,000.

3.3 Payment of benefit/s:

- The award monies will be paid into an account within the Recipient's faculty/unit. The monies will be paid into an account set up on a "life to date" basis so that the funds will still be available to Recipients for the following three years. The funds must be spent by December 2022.
- The funds may be used to further the Recipient's academic career. It is suggested that funds may be used for conference attendance, attendance at seminars or workshops related to teaching and learning in the discipline, purchase of teaching and learning resources, teaching and learning research expenses such as transcriptions, teaching and research assistance, study trips, or other expenses which are related to teaching and learning.
- The Prize money will not be paid to the Recipient/s in cash.
- A certificate of award will be presented to the Recipient/s at a University Learning and Teaching event.

4. ELIGIBILITY CRITERIA

- The Citation is available to both academic and professional staff.

- Individual applicants: Individuals must have at least three years of service at UTS, with the exception of casual or sessional teachers. Casual academics with at least four sessions of teaching at UTS may apply for UTS Citations. It is not a requirement that these periods of employment be consecutive.
- Team applications: Team leaders must have at least three years of service at UTS. Team members, including academic, support, professional and casual, staff must have at least two years of service of at UTS.
- Previous Award winners are not eligible for renomination in the same category, or for nomination for Citations, for a period of three years following receipt of an Award. Staff members who have indicated, prior to the closing date, an intention to resign or retire from the University will not be eligible for nomination. Staff members who were awarded a Citation or Commendation in 2018 or earlier may apply for a UTS Learning and Teaching Award in subsequent years. Award applicants may apply to be considered in more than one category, but may not win more than one Award or Citation.

5. RECIPIENT SELECTION CRITERIA, IN PRIORITY ORDER

Applications are judged on the evidence presented against the chosen criteria, and the extent to which the contribution has been sustained over time.

In most cases it would be expected that the contributions which are the subject of a UTS Citation submission would be sustained over a period of two to three years. This duration may include a year of preparation such as contribution to a related curriculum renewal project, or another relevant form of preparation.

6. SELECTION

A selection committee comprising both staff and students will be convened by the office of the Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Education and Students).

The Learning and Teaching Awards and Citations seek to recognise the breadth of activities that contribute to students' experiences within and outside their courses at UTS. In looking for significant, outstanding or exemplary contributions, the Selection Committee is seeking evidence of contributions that go beyond normal good practice to display sensitivity to students' needs and make well-informed, distinctive and sustained contributions to students' learning, student engagement and the student experience at UTS.

Applications are judged by a selection panel on the evidence presented against the chosen criteria, and the extent to which the contribution has been sustained over time.

Applicants for UTS Citations must address one of the following four criteria, choosing the one most relevant to their contributions:

1. Approaches to teaching and the support of learning that influence, motivate and inspire students to learn.
2. Development of curricula, resources or services that reflect a command of the field.
3. Evaluation practices that bring about improvements in teaching and learning.
4. Innovation, leadership or scholarship that has influenced and enhanced learning and teaching and/or the student experience. This includes contribution to the development of good learning and teaching practices through leadership or mentoring.
